        I am a B.Tech student exploring web development using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I enjoy building clean and simple UI/UX and learning new technologies step by step. aprt from this i also like to solve the complex problems and i always try to make it simple as possible. nowaday i am learning the web development and i am very excited to learn new things and i am very passionate about my work.
        apart from this i am also exploring the backend by using SpringBoot and i am very excited to learn new things
